

One Rivington is a cultural and hospitality-led workspace rooted in Shoreditch.

Connected directly to art'otel Hoxton, members get access to the hotel's full range of amenities, from destination dining and spa to rooftop views and gallery-style event spaces.

Wellness sits at the heart of the design. A dedicated members' gym brings high-performance training together with hotel-level comfort, premium changing facilities, luxury hotel shower products and complimentary towel service, alongside a fitness class programme and run clubs.

Circular floorplates and floor-to-ceiling windows fill the space with natural light, with communal terraces offering room to step outside.

One Rivington is a place where work is part of a wider hospitality, wellness and cultural experience, not the defining function.
